

ELECTRONIC INFORMATION ACCESS

INTERNET

The National Agricultural Statistics Service and its' Illinois Field Office each have a home page on the World Wide Web that provides easy access to a wide range of statistical information about agriculture. Through these home pages, you can obtain information on many subjects and in many forms. Use the following addresses to obtain information for counties, States, and the Nation:

USDA, NASS, Illinois Field Office
<http://www.agstats.state.il.us>

National Agricultural Statistics Service
<http://www.usda.gov/nass/>

ELECTRONIC MAIL

Statistical publications from our state and national offices are available free of charge via e-mail within a short time after publication. These mailing lists provide quick and timely access to the agricultural estimates. For more information about e-mail subscriptions, visit:

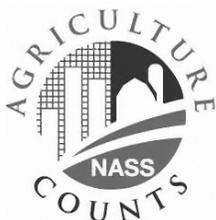

USDA, NASS, Illinois Field Office
<http://www.nass.usda.gov/sub-form.htm>

National Agricultural Statistics Service
http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/ess_emailinfo.html

FACSIMILE

Many of our state and national statistical reports are available by facsimile. The Illinois Weather & Crops report (weekly during crop season) can be faxed to you automatically from our office each Monday afternoon for a modest subscription charge. To order, use the Order Form in the front of this publication.

Most national reports are available from NASS AutoFax. Documents available include current U.S. summary pages and report highlights for selected reports. This service is free to the data user but the caller will incur normal telephone charges. For further details on this service, contact our National Agricultural Statistics Hotline at 1-800-727-9540.

The Illinois Field Office would like to thank all the contributors who submitted pictures for this publication. The pictures chosen to be on this year's cover were submitted by Floyd Anderson, Kelly McCleary, and Dianne Morse.

The pumpkin pie recipe on the cover was generously Provided by Shirley Shoemaker of Kilbourne, Illinois.