

HOGS AND PIGS

On December 1, 2013, the inventory of hogs and pigs on New England farms totaled 25,400 head, an increase of 400 head from 2012. Massachusetts accounted for 33 percent of New England's hog inventory with 8,500 head on hand the first of December. The 2013 pig crop for New England totaled 44,500 head, an 16 percent increase from the previous year. New England hog producers marketed 10.6 million pounds in 2013, up 18 percent from a year earlier.

Cash receipts generated from hogs and pigs totaled $7.38 million, an increase of 25 percent from the previous year's level. Beginning in 2011, NASS no longer publishes State average prices per hundredweight for livestock.
