AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS ANNUAL BULLETIN
PENNSYLVANIA

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Dear Friends of Pennsylvania Agriculture,

To understand who we are as an industry, where we are going, and where we want to be, the first step is gathering information. Data is key to making sound decisions and plans for the future.

The Agricultural Statistics Annual Bulletin provides a reliable, extensive collection of facts that will be the root of individual business decisions and broader economic decisions.

The data, compiled by the USDA National Agricultural Statistical Service, serve as an important tool that planners, economists, policy makers, lenders, scientists, and others use to inform their advice, investments, initiatives, and research.

Who is making the business decisions on Pennsylvania farms? Which counties have the most acres in production and what are they producing? What trends offer opportunities to grow a business or create jobs? These questions and so many others are answered in this bulletin.

When we claim that Pennsylvania is a national leader, we can back it up with reliable statistics. And when we need to invest in order to attract processors to set up shop, the data help paint a picture of the local agriculture business climate and infrastructure.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture considers these statistics an indispensable tool in our daily work protecting and promoting our agriculture industry and feeding the innovation that will take us into tomorrow and sustain our prosperity together.

We hope you will use this report as a tool to feed your future in Pennsylvania agriculture.

Sincerely,

Dear Friends,

At the USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS), we are dedicated to delivering timely, accurate, and valuable statistics to support U.S. agriculture. We are pleased to present the latest edition of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Statistics Annual Bulletin.

This report provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of Pennsylvania agriculture, along with historical data to illustrate trends and changes. The information contained within offers concrete facts and figures for those interested in tracking the progress of farming and related industries in Pennsylvania. These statistics are crucial for decision-makers to accurately assess the health of agriculture and assist farmers in making informed business decisions. Utilizing NASS data also enables others to conduct robust market assessments, validate economic opportunities, and ensure the prudent use of federal funds.

The publication and dissemination of these and other agricultural statistics are made possible through the support of the entire agricultural community. We extend our sincere appreciation to all the farm families and businesses who generously provided their time and records, enabling the preparation of the estimates in this report. Without your cooperation, this information would not be possible. Having access to this data is vital for the continued success of Pennsylvania agriculture.

In conclusion, we express our gratitude to every producer who participated in the 2022 Census of Agriculture. The Census is a significant part of U.S. history, remaining as relevant today as it was in 1840 when it was first conducted. It provides a platform for all farmers and ranchers in America to share the evolving story of agriculture and identify emerging trends and needs. We are pleased to announce that the data from the 2022 Census of Agriculture was released in February 2024.

All Census data products are available at <https://www.nass.usda.gov/AgCensus/index.php>. Should you have any questions, concerns, or require additional assistance, please feel free to contact us via email, telephone, or in person. We welcome your feedback on our programs and publications.

I extend my best wishes to all readers of this Annual Bulletin for a prosperous year ahead and continued success in the future.

Sincerely,

Kevin Pautler
